

ABSTRACT

A method of treating or preventing painful disorders comprises the intrathecal administration of civamide or one of its salts in an amount of about 0.001-1 mg by weight in a pharmaceutically acceptable vehicle to provide surprisingly long-lasting pain relief.